COMMISSIONERS TO SELECT C-D DIRECTOR FOR ADAMS COUNTY

Reflecting changes being made at the state level under new legislation at Harrisburg, new county and local councils of defense will be formed as governmental agencies. They will take the place of existing organizations which were created last year by Governor Duff under his emergency powers in order to get civilian defense work under way before the Legislature could meet.

The Adams county commissioners and Judge W. C. Sheely, county coordinator of civil defense, have been notified by the State Council of Defense and by Governor Pine of Acts No. 4 through 7 which were passed by the current session of the Legislature and approved by the governor.

Last year Governor Duff, acting under his emergency powers, requested Judge Sheely to act as county coordinator of civil defense for Adams county and the preliminary work in the county has been done under that authority. Under the new statutes the responsibility for civilian defense work is shifted to the county commissioners for the county level, and to the executive officer, or governing body, of boroughs and townships.

How New System Works
A county director of civil defense will be recommended by the county commissioners and will be appointed by the governor. He will be responsible for the organization, administration and operation of the county organization, acting under the direction and control of the

CURVIN FEESER, OF LITTLESTOWN, IS FOUND DEAD

Curvin Feeser, 61, Littlestown R. 1, Germany township, was found dead in the barn at his home this morning at 10:45 o'clock by his widow.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, investigated and said death was due to suicide by hanging. He set the time of death at approximately 8:30 a.m.

Mrs. Feeser said her husband had eaten a hearty breakfast and had gone out to the barn at 8 o'clock. He did not talk to men who were working there. Later in the morning his wife discovered his body. Mr. Feeser is reported to have been worried for some time but the cause for his mental condition is unknown. Among his survivors are his widow and six married children.

A Littlestown physician was summoned and found Mr. Feeser dead on arrival. He declined further information.

Rites Next Monday For Captain Trostle

Funeral services for Capt. Paul G. Trostle, 41, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Trostle, 409 York street, who died suddenly while playing golf in California, will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bender funeral home conducted by the Rev. Harold Myers, pastor of the Poursquare Gospel church.

Interment will be made in the National cemetery with military rites being conducted by the American Legion.

The body is scheduled to arrive in Harrisburg Saturday and will be accompanied by Capt. Michael J. Meyers, Camp Roberts, Calif., where Capt. Trostle was stationed.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening after 7 o'clock.

TWO INSPECT COUNTY SCALES

Harry Shomper, state inspector of weights and measures, is working in Adams county this week with Donald E. Wright, of Biglerville, Adams county inspector of weights and measures. The men are checking large scales in the area.

The state has two special trucks which weigh 36,700 pounds each. Each truck is equipped with weights up to 1,000 pounds and with a crane to handle the weights. Such a truck has not been in the county since 1947, its schedule calling for visits about every four years. It is expected that the work here will be completed the middle of this week after which the apparatus will be moved into York county.

Mr. Wright was appointed early this month to complete the unexpired term of his father, the late E. W. Wright, of Gardners.

Accident Victim Is Buried Today

Funeral services for Elmer M. Hardman, 64, of 335 South Washington street, who was fatally injured in a fall from a scaffold last Saturday at Shippensburg, were held this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Francis Xavier Catholic church conducted by the Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane. Interment in the church cemetery.

The pallbearers were John Slentz, Joseph Rosensteel, Earl Steinhour, John and Francis Wisotzky and William Hardman.

700 WOMEN AT SECOND COOKING SCHOOL SESSION

Nearly 700 women attended the closing session of The Gettysburg Times annual cooking school in Littlestown Tuesday evening. Additional seating capacity had been provided and the crowd was considerably larger than on Monday evening.

Mrs. Mabel Bowen, director of the school, held the rapt attention of her large audience for nearly two and a half hours while she explained latest techniques and short cuts in the tasty preparation of food and demonstrated numerous recipes.

She was assisted by Miss Elizabeth Howells, home economist for the Metropolitan Edison company, and Miss Martha Strausbaugh, Gettysburg.

Makes Leftover Dish
Mrs. Bowen demonstrated the preparation of a complete oven meal in one hour; demonstrated the use of leftover vegetables in a casserole dish called "harvest plate," and prepared several other dishes, all of which were given away at the conclusion of the cooking session.

Recipe booklets and samples of food products were given away by representatives of several concerns which cooperated with The Times in staging the cooking school. Again, as on the first evening, 25 baskets of food and home products, valued at more than $10 each, were given away, and in addition, numerous gifts of Littlestown merchants were awarded as special prizes.

The next cooking school will be held Thursday and Friday evenings in the memorial auditorium at the South Mountain fairgrounds, under Mrs. Bowen's direction. Cooking school will be held in Gettysburg, at the Hotel Gettysburg annex, May 22, 23 and 24.

BOY SCOUTS TO OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR CAMP FUND

A dinner Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Musselman plant cafeteria will witness the "kick-off" in the Black Walnut district for the York-Adams area campaign for $58,500 for the "scouting growth and development program."

Chief purpose of the drive is to provide funds to construct a five-acre lake at Camp Tuckahoe, erect a nature cabin there, a handicraft lodge, liquidate an $11,000 bank loan and complete work already underway at the camp which aims at accommodations for 250 boys each week during the summer camping period.

Black Walnut District Chairman Edward B. Bullett will preside at the meeting and there will be a talk by Dean W. E. Tilberg, member of the York-Adams area council. David M. Dickson, scout field executive, will show movies made at Tuckahoe and slides on campaign information.

Musselman Company Host
Daniel E. Teeter, district finance chairman, will address the assembled

Here And There News Collected At Random

Eight children, thus far, have been assured of two weeks' vacation in Adams county homes this summer, according to an announcement today by Mrs. Clark Smith, West Lincoln avenue, chairman of the Fresh Air Kiddies Committee.

Mrs. Smith said that countians have arranged to entertain eight children from the tenement districts of New York in their homes for two weeks this summer beginning July 12.

"We hope many more Adams countians will join in giving these tenement district children wholesome vacations in the country this summer," Mrs. Smith said. "Last year 18 children were entertained in Adams county and we are hopeful that more families will come forth this year and entertain these youngsters."

The children all must pass a thorough physical examination before they leave New York. They must be physically fit or they are not permitted to leave the city.

All expenses in 'uding transportation and medical attention, if needed, are paid. Adams countians who take one or more youngsters for a two week period will be under no financial obligation other than board and room for the youngster during his or her stay of two weeks.

Those interested in participating in this movement are urged to communicate with Mrs. Clark Smith or with any other member of the committee: Mrs. Henry W. Scharf, Mrs. John D. Teeter, Mrs. Raymond F. Sheely, Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, Rev. Clyde R. Brown, Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane, Mrs. Ira M. Henderson, Fairfield; Mrs. Frank N. Hewetson, Biglerville; Mrs. J. R. Riden, Littlestown; Mrs. Elmer Coulson, York Springs, and Rev. Archie Rohrbaugh, New Oxford.

Bradley Is Excused Until Monday; Truman Conversation Is Big Issue

Washington, May 16 (P)—Senators voted 19 to 6 today to excuse Gen. Omar Bradley until next Monday as a witness in the MacArthur hearings. Meantime, they will vote Thursday noon on whether to insist that he testify about private talks with President Truman on the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Today's hearing was recessed at 11:35 a.m.

Sen. Russell, who heads the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees inquiry, told his colleagues: "I have tried to sit here not as a Republican or Democrat but as an American. I have devoutly hoped from the moment these hearings opened that they would not degenerate into a partisan fight where the Republicans would have huddles here and the Democrats would have huddles there."

Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) yesterday demanded that Bradley tell what was said at conferences with President Truman on firing General MacArthur. Bradley protested that he had talked with the President in a "confidential relationship" and he thought he should not relate anything about it.

Union Township Names New Assessor

John E. Palmer, Littlestown R. 2, was appointed assessor for Union township at a meeting of the Adams county commissioners this morning in the court house. He succeeds Lloyd Bortner, who resigned.

The commissioners named the Edgar Strang garage, Cold Spring road, as the voting place for district No. 2, Hamiltonban township. The voting place was changed from the Cold Spring schoolhouse, which was closed last fall and sold.

DAR ASSEMBLY IS CONDUCTED AT HIGH SCHOOL

"If democracy is a God-fearing institution, then we have nothing to fear," Dr. Albert Bachman, head of the Romance Language department at Gettysburg college, declared in an address on "Democracy at the Crossroads" at the high school assembly this morning. The program was sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Guile W. Lefever, DAR regent, presented the awards to the winners of the essay contests. They were: DAR essay, first, John Thrush; second, Jean Mountain; junior American history, first, Janet Musselman, second, Fred Herring; home economics, first, Helen Martin; second, Joan Sterner.

The prize-winning essay by John Thrush was read by its author. Rev. W. R. Sammel, Dr. Kenneth L. Smoke and Miss Martha Sachs were the judges.

Russ Veto Dooms UN

Dr. Bachman laid his emphasis not so much on the "mass" man but on individual courage or valor, and in developing the God-fearing theme, said: "We are fighting not only for democracy, but for Christianity."

He explained the three types of democracy, the Swiss, the democracy of England and America, and the French democracy which grew out of the French revolution and develops a mobilization of masses.

He paid a tribute to China as a democracy, against the Chinese form of communism, and in closing declared that "I see little hope in the UN as long as Russia has the veto power and can break down what others are trying to accomplish."

AERO OIL CO. IS OBSERVING 22ND ANNIVERSARY

The Aero Oil company, established at New Oxford in 1929, is this week observing its 22nd anniversary. All week special gifts are being presented with purchases of gasoline at Atlantic service stations in Gettysburg, Biglerville, Abbottstown, East Berlin, New Oxford, Fairfield and York Springs.

The Aero Oil company is distributor for Atlantic Petroleum products. It was incorporated September 12, 1929, established a bulk plant at Brush Run and secured a truck for deliveries. Later it purchased land on which the present office-warehouse and service station are located in New Oxford. A service station was built on this lot and opened October 26, 1929.

Business Is Expanded

During its early years in business, the Aero Oil company confined most of its selling to Adams county and part of York county. In 1934 it purchased the business of R. M. Mark, a York distributor, and two years later built a bulk plant at Lancaster. In 1937 it purchased the assets of the Harrisburg Oil company and established its business in that city, and in the same year set up a plant in Frederick, Md.

In 1946 bulk plants in Gettysburg and Hanover were leased from the Atlantic Refining company. The new building on Lincolnway East, New Oxford, was opened to the public on October 27, 1947.

Aero Oil company and its service stations are distributors for Atlantic petroleum products, tires, tubes, batteries, oil burners and accessories. M. D. DeTar is president of the company.

4-H Club Adopts Project For Year

The Fairfield road 4-H club met Tuesday night at the home of its local leader, Mrs. Daniel Paddock, and adopted the homemakers' assistance as the year's project.

These officers were elected: President, Jean Barrie; vice president, Eleanor Paddock; secretary-treasurer, Molly Lighter; news reporter, Marjorie Gilbert; song leader, Mildred Sites; game leader, Josephine Flynn.

The next meeting will be held May 21 at the home of Molly Lighter.

Reds Pounce On Allies Along Eastern Front; Big Offensive Expected; Strike Strong Blows

Cuts Chest While Repairing Shoes
Tom George, proprietor of the Champion shoe repair shop, Chambersburg street, suffered a laceration of the left chest which required two stitches to close.

Mr. George was repairing a pair of shoes and was cutting away the old sole when his knife slipped and inflicted a gash in the chest. He received treatment from Dr. David Stoner.

The general said if the Chinese follow their "previous pattern of attacking on the full moon, the blow should come soon. The moon comes full on the 18th of the month. That gives him two days."

(The World Almanac and the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey say the full moon comes next Monday.)

390,000 Reds Ready

Allied intelligence officers said striking force of 390,000 Reds was ready for the signal to begin their biggest offensive of the war.

One United Nations divisional officer said the Communists "will have to do more probing" before the attack. "They are not too familiar with our defense lines."

Allied patrols reaching across the 10 mile wide no-man's-land also probed continually into Chinese buildups. Deeper penetrations ran into artillery fire from self-propelled guns.

A divisional spokesman said increasing numbers of Red prisoners were being brought back, indicating a weakening of Communist morale.

Peiping radio sought to bolster Chinese troops by assuring them they have shown that the "United States is nothing but a paper tiger."

The Red China broadcast said the war will continue until "we drive the mad, shameless American imperialists completely out of Korea."

Waiting Bored Yanks

American troops, somewhat bored with waiting, have had time in a two and a half week lull to thoroughly bolster their defenses. A divisional spokesman said the war will continue until "we drive the mad, shameless American imperialists completely out of Korea."

SORORITY TO CONDUCT BABY CONTEST HERE

Two of Adams county's best all-around babies, a boy and a girl, will be crowned king and queen of the baby show to be held by Epsilon Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority at the Recreation park Saturday afternoon, June 30, at 2 p.m. in connection with the Gettysburg Fire company's observance of the 98th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. In case of rain, the baby show will be held the following Saturday afternoon, July 7.

The contest has been divided into three age groups, the first from six months to two years; second, from two years to three years, and the third, from four to five years. Application blanks will be available later in all the stores of the county. The entry fee is 50 cents.

Babies in the three age groups will be judged for curliest hair, bluest eyes, nicest dimples, most unusual costume, baby coming the longest distance and identical twins. Appropriate prizes will be awarded.

The committee in charge is: Mrs. Phyllis Hess, chairman; Mrs. Grace Sheely, Mrs. Sally Musselman, Mrs. Marie Kuhn, Mrs. Dorothy Ellis, Miss Louise Duncan and Miss Margaret Spangler.

Club Elects New Officers

Wesley Schaible was elected president of the Fairfield Lions club at the annual meeting held Tuesday evening in the Lutheran church, Fairfield. He will succeed Stuart Sites. Other officers elected were:

A shrimp feed for members of the Gettysburg lodge of Elks will be held Thursday from 6 to 9 o'clock at the lodge home on York street.

Littlestown

SAYS 443 DP'S
HAVE COME TO
ADAMS COUNTY

A Displaced Persons program was presented at the regular meeting of the Littlestown Rotary club Tuesday evening at Schottie's hotel and the guest speaker was the Rev. Raymond F. Wieder, Gettysburg, staff member of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches and the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, Inc., operating as the Pennsylvania State Council of Christian Education. The speaker was introduced by Luther D. Snyder, chairman of the International Service committee.

Using "Displaced Persons" as his subject, the Rev. Mr. Wieder informed his audience that of the 16,573 displaced persons who have entered Pennsylvania, 443 of them are in Adams county and all counties of the state have D.P.'s except two. The Rev. Mr. Wieder explained these five "keys" to opening the door for displaced persons: Help find a job and housing for a displaced family or person, not to replace an American worker or resident and housing can be one or two rooms in any house; secure a displaced person's assurance form and fill it out; have resettlement form checked and certified by the individual's pastor or an officer of the local council of churches or County Council of Christian Education; mail the form to Department of Overseas Relief at the Protestant Center in Harrisburg; or inquire about the "Good Samaritan Plan" and other ways in helping in the displaced persons program.

In Pennsylvania 8,252 D.P.'s are married; 7,343 are single, the remainder are widows or divorced persons; 8,415 are of Polish nationality; Lithuanian follows with 1,901, Latvian with 1,729 and Russian 1,305. Of the 16 sponsoring organizations who make arrangements for the placing of the D.P.'s, 5,660 have been sponsored by the National Catholic Welfare Conference; 3,409 by the United Ukrainian American Relief Committee, Inc.; 1,936 by Church World Services, Inc., and the National Lutheran council, and the United Service for Americans, Inc., have sponsored over a thousand.

Visiting Rotarians
Visiting Rotarians at the meeting were A. S. Sergeant, of the Hanover club; J. Oscar Armocost of the Hampshire club and C. O. Schweizer of the Gettysburg club. Assisting Mr. Snyder with the program arrangements were Arthur E. Bair, Frank J. Kojak, Edward H. Leister, Richard A. Little, Sr., Edward T. Richardson, Sr., and P. Emory Weaver.

The Rotarians will honor the Letter Boys and Girls of the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school at the meeting next Tuesday evening. The program will be in charge of the Classification and Membership committee composed of Howard A. Stoness, chairman, Luther W. Ritter, Lloyd E. Crouse, Charles M. Weikert and J. Ray Reinhold.

If anyone in the community is interested in providing for an assurance for one or more of the 50,000 unsettled people who are waiting to enter the United States, they may contact the Rev. Mr. Wieder. Most of those waiting are widows with children or couples.

Reds Pounce

vision spokesman said the Allied forces are probably in the best positions they have maintained yet. He said they're confident and in good spirits.

AP Correspondent John Randolph reported that while Allied officers differed on just when the Reds will strike they agreed:

"The Chinese are loaded and cocked and can explode southward any time they want."

The Chinese sharpened their probing attacks Wednesday morning, concentrating on the central front. They have moved in considerable strength across the Pukhan and Soyang rivers on either side of Chunchon.

Attackers Sound Bugles
One bugle blowing attack drove Allies from their positions east of Chunchon before artillery broke up the Chinese force.

Korean Reds hit southwest of Inje, after recouping the highway town on the eastern front.

Skirmishing stepped up on the western front, too, with several sharp clashes about 17 miles north of Seoul. The Reds turned anti-tank guns on one armored American reconnaissance patrol.

"It looks as if they are just about ready and will be on their way down to us pretty soon," one officer said. Randolph reported all signs seemed to point to the final moves before a typical Chinese offensive.

SYNODS TO MEET

VFW TO BURN
MORTGAGE ON ANNIVERSARY

Monday was the fifth anniversary of the institution of Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6554, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the anniversary will be celebrated Friday evening with a mortgage burning ceremony followed with dancing and refreshments. The affair will be held at 8 o'clock at Basehoar's restaurant, North Queen street, and among the guests will be state officers and local visitors, who will speak briefly. Music for dancing will be furnished by Tiny Wright and his orchestra from Harrisburg. Members of the VFW and their lady guests are invited to the occasion.

The chairman or representatives of the various committees for the second annual Community Music Festival to be presented on Sunday evening, June 17, at 8:15 o'clock on Littlestown Memorial field, or on Sunday, June 21, in case of rain, or the first clear Sunday evening following, met on Tuesday evening in the directors' room of the Littlestown State bank. The affair is being sponsored by the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce assisted voluntarily by the Littlestown High School Athletic association.

The duties of each committee were outlined and general plans were discussed. A report was given concerning inquiries made to feature outside talent on the program other than local. The musical will present all types of talent to satisfy the various tastes of music lovers. Several innovations are being made in the program. It is planned to have tickets for the affair on sale soon and they will be available from the Jaycees members and at several of the local business places. James L. Rhodes was appointed chairman of the ticket committee. Those in attendance at the meeting were: Donald Z. Mann, of the advertising committee; Harry Strine, chairman of the concessions committee; Clyde W. Crouse, of the field and equipment committee; James L. Rhodes, chairman of the ticket committee; Frank E. Basehoar, ticket committee, and L. Robert Snyder of the general committee. The committee chairman or representatives will meet next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Majorities Perform
The regular rehearsal of the Littlestown Men's chorus will be held Thursday evening at 9 o'clock at St. Paul's Lutheran church. This will be the last rehearsal in preparation for the chorus to appear in New Chester on Sunday evening. The members will leave that evening at 7 o'clock.

A variety of baton twirling acts was presented by a class of pupils taught by Miss Joan Shull, the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school majorette Monday evening in the high school auditorium with approximately 300 spectators present. The presentation consisted of solo, duet and trio twirling numbers.

Those participating in the show were Ann Kroh, Linda Sentz, Shirley Fesser, Marietta Weikert, Nancy Ruggles, Judy Lipsey, Judy Long, Judy Shopper, Wanda Morelock, Lois Shull, Maribelle Marshman, Maggie Vay, Ellen Beck, Judy Ruggles, Janet Sell, Sally Basehoar, Barbara Long, Barbara Sentz, Kay Morehead, Fay Fissel, Sharon Long, Beverly Morehead, Marlene Crabbs, Wanda Pettyjohn, Fay Daley, Lorna Lee Bowers and Donna Morelock. During the program a piano solo was played by Dianne Stambaugh and a vocal duet was sung by Joyce and Susan Streivig. A vocal solo, "Let A Smile Be Your Umbrella," was sung by Lorna Lee Bowers, and she also did an umbrella dance as she sang. Music for the baton twirling acts was furnished on the piano by Miss Stambaugh. The girls were attired in majorette costumes with pillbox hats.

convention, and Nelson Groft and Dr. Robert S. Lefever, delegates to this year's convention at Bushkill Falls, were instructed to sound out sentiment toward a Gettysburg bid. It might be several years before the local club could get the state convention here, it was pointed out.

Eugene Weishaar was named representative of the club on the Elks Flag Day committee. A meeting of the general committee, which includes representatives of local lodges and other organizations, will be held at the Elks home on May 24.

Tuesday evening's speaker was Rev. Robert C. Schiebel, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, Arendtsville, and Flehr's Lutheran church Lincolnway West, who spoke on the subject, "Our Responsibilities as Leaders in the Community and as Parents."

"There is no substitute for teaching," Rev. Schiebel said. "The religious movement had no accidental growth. It was rather an outgrowth of the centuries, propelled by the necessity of balancing the preaching power with the teaching power."

"It isn't sufficient that we live as good examples to our neighbors. Jesus did that, but he also taught. There are two ways of learning, through our own experiences and through the example and teaching of others. The bulk of our knowledge is second-hand knowledge. We have to be taught the results of other people's experiences."

"Religious understanding is also built on experience and teaching. No one can grasp the sacredness of the marriage vows or of the home unless he is taught."

"Unless man's capacity for religion is developed, it will reach only a primitive stage. Religion in Russia will not die, but when it is revived it will be in this stage because it has not enjoyed its proper environment for the past several decades."

"We need to know how the word of God fits into our everyday lives. Our task is to see that we are giving spiritual things the right place in our lives. We must be dedicated to a gospel of life, to love life and humanity, not to see how much we can get out of life but how much we can put into it."

"The world doesn't become better by hoping. We've got to teach how to make it better."

Local Girl Named
To Regular Army

The surgeon general of the army has announced the appointment in the regular army of 1st Lt. Mary Elizabeth Frazee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray B. Frazee, 32 Howard street.

TED WILLIAMS JOINS 300-CLUB BUT WHITE SOX STEAL THE SHOW

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Ted Williams cracked his 300th home run. Only nine others had accomplished this feat.

Ewell Blackwell and Vern Bickford hooked up in a brilliant pitching duel that produced only three hits in the Cincinnati-Boston game. Blackwell allowed one hit to win, 1-0. Only twice before in the last 50 years have there been games in which fewer hits were made.

Yet, these exploits had to take a back seat yesterday to a bizarre stunt pulled by a rookie manager who once was billed as the "switch-hitting, ambidextrous pitcher from Waxahachie" (Texas).

Makes Right Switch
This is how Paul Rapiere Richards, in his first year as leader of the Chicago White Sox, stole the baseball thunder.

With his team leading the Red Sox, 7-6 and southpaw swinging Ted Williams leading off for Boston in the last half of the ninth, he replaced righthander Harry Dorish with lefty Billy Pierce. But Dorish did not go to the bench. Instead, Richards benched third baseman Orestes Minoso and moved pitcher Dorish there. Pierce got Williams on a high pop fly to the shortstop behind second. Richards then returned Dorish to the mound, Pierce back to the bench and sent Floyd Baker to third.

Tight Win For Blackwell
The Red Sox got their tying run anyway, but the White Sox won in the 11th when Nelson Fox poked a two-run homer for a 9-7 triumph. Williams' 300th and seventh of the season came in the fourth.

Babe Ruth once left the mound for right field for one batter, then returned. He was pitching for the Red Sox.

Blackwell threw a one-hitter in one of the tightest pitching battles ever waged. Bickford, the loser, allowed only two hits. The two right-handers, shooting for their second big league no-hitters, went into the fifth before Bob Elliott doubled off Blackwell for the first hit of the game.

Bickford surrendered his first hit in the sixth—a double by Connie Ryan. Cincinnati's second hit won the game. It was a home run by catcher John Pramesa. Blackwell pitched a pair of one-hitters last year.

The major league record for the fewest hits made by both teams in one game is two.

The victory moved the Reds out of the cellar into sixth place. Back again into the basement fell the New York Giants who dropped a 7-3 decision to Bill Werle and the Pirates in Pittsburgh.

Brooklyn strengthened its first place hold with an 8-4 victory over the Cubs in Chicago. Two homers by Gil Hodges, a grand slammer by Duke Snider and another round tripper by Jackie Robinson accounted for all but one of Brooklyn's runs.

Phil's Best Cards
A pinch single by Bill Nicholson with the bases loaded in the ninth gave the Philadelphia Phils two runs and a 5-4 victory over the Cards in St. Louis. The win moved the Phils into a third place tie with Pittsburgh.

Detroit handed Sandy Consuegra his first loss as the Tigers pounded out 14 hits for a 12-4 victory over Washington. Hal Newhouse spaced nine hits for his third win.

The St. Louis Browns won a free-swinging battle from the Athletics in Philadelphia, 11-8. Gus Zernial hit two homers for the Athletics for the second straight game. Ned Garver was the winner. He has won five of the seven St. Louis victories.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)

Lancaster spun out its winning skinn to eight straight games last night, defeating Sunbury 7 to 5 and holding its three and a half game lead in the Interstate league standings.

But the Red Roses have relief pitcher Chet Beres to thank for quelling a ninth inning Giants uprising which all but cost Lancaster the ball game. Trailing 7 to 1, in the ninth, the Giants routed starter Joe Matalavage. Four runs were in and the winning runs on the bases. Then Beres squelched the rally.

The Hagerstown Braves edged out the Wilmington Blue Rocks 4 to 3 in ten innings. First baseman Billy Smith's Texas league which Wilmington left flounder Charley Hood couldn't hold, allowed second baseman Ray Bortz to score from first with the winning run. Pitcher Bill Allen was the victor.

The Harrisburg Senators clubbed the Allentown Cardinals 9 to 4, the win going to southpaw Bob Smith.

York defeated Salisbury 5 to 4 in a game marked by some sharp pitching contrasts. York's Jack Sauter won his first victory of the season with a three-inning scoreless relief stint. Loser Bob Zick was crushed by his own mistakes. In the third inning he hit a batter, walked two men, and committed two costly errors, all that adding up to three York runs on only one hit.

Eastern League

The Elmira Pioneers, who started the season with 12 straight victories, had only a two and a half game lead in the Eastern league today.

A full game was sliced off their margin last night when the Albany Senators set them back, 11-10, in a whirlwind finish and the second-place Hartford Chiefs defeated Williamsport, 5-3.

The Schenectady Blue Jays knocked off Scranton, 11-4, to boot the Miners out of a two-way tie for second. Schenectady and Scranton now are tied for third, a game behind Hartford. The Wilkes-Barre Indians edged Binghamton, 4-3, in an 11-inning encounter.

The Senators punched across six runs in the ninth inning at Albany to win a series with Elmira, three games to one. First baseman Len Noren's sharp single scored the tying and winning runs.

Hanover high school won the 1951 championship of the South Penn Baseball league by defeating the Gettysburg high Warriors 9-5 here Tuesday afternoon.

The Nighthawks succeeded Chambersburg who had ruled since the league was organized in 1947.

Tuesday's title contest was rather loosely played on the part of both teams, defensive bobbles contributing heavily to the scoring.

After Hanover had pushed over a run in the first inning on a walk to Fuhrman, a stolen base and single by Rhodes, the Warriors bounced back for two runs in their half. Rohrbach was safe on an error.

The next two batters went out but Singley walked and Little singled. Heyser walked and Ford singled but the rally expired when Penn skied to right.

Hanover tallied two in the second when, with two out, an error and pair of hits produced the runs. Again in the third the visitors scored with two out on a walk and pair of singles.

Gettysburg picked up a run in the third on an infield hit by Bupp and a long single by Singley. Hanover put the clincher on the game with four tallies in the fourth via a single, double and triple, combined with a walk and error. The final Nighthawk tally was the result of a homerun by Rhodes in the sixth that Bupp nearly caught in left field.

The final Warrior runs resulted in the fifth on a walk to Bupp, singles by Singley and Little, and a fielder's choice.

Coach Shoemaker's team, which finished its season with the game, won six of its 10 contests.

Batting—Nelson Fox, White Sox, his first major league home run with a man on base came in the 11th inning to give Chicago a 9-7 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Pitching—Ewell Blackwell, Reds, pitched a one-hitter (fifth inning double by Bob Elliott) to win a hurling duel from Vern Bickford and the Boston Braves, 1-0. Bickford allowed only two hits, one a seventh inning home run by catcher John Pramesa.

After World War II the U. S. sheep population dropped from about 50,000,000 to about half that.

New Oxford at East Berlin.
Newville at Littlestown.

Biglerville retained its hopes of tying Boiling Springs for the lead in the Adams County Scholastic Baseball league by edging York Springs 4-3 Tuesday afternoon at Biglerville, thereby eliminating York Springs as a contender.

York Springs is host to Boiling Springs Thursday and by winning would make a playoff necessary between Biglerville and the Bubbler.

On the other hand the Bubbler can win the title outright through a victory.

The Cannons broke a 3-3 tie in the last of the seventh inning to win Tuesday. With one out, Kessel tripled and scored when Warner grounded to first base. Bushman and Harbold had engaged in a fine pitchers' battle previous to that.

East Berlin staged an eight-run rally in the top of the sixth inning to overcome a 10-5 lead to defeat Newville on the latter's field 13-10.

Newville outthit the winners 14-7. Lucabaugh and Hoopes each homered for the victors.

Littlestown high forfeited its contest to New Oxford.

Bob Dillinger Is Bought By Chisox

Pittsburgh, May 16 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today sold third baseman Bob Dillinger to the Chicago White Sox for a reported $20,000.

Dillinger cost the Pirates about $40,000 when they purchased him from the Philadelphia Athletics in July, 1950. In 12 games for the Bucs this season, the bespectacled infielder batted only 233. The sale of the 32-year-old infielder cuts the Bucs squad to 27 players, two over the limit which must be reached by midnight tonight.

Philadelphia, May 16 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles will open their 1951 home National Football league season the night of October 6 against the San Francisco 49ers.

It is the first of six home games announced yesterday by the club. The San Francisco game, like the others, is scheduled to be played in Shibe Park. But should the baseball park be in use at that time for the World Series, the game will be shifted to Temple university's stadium.

After World War II the U. S. sheep population dropped from about 50,000,000 to about half that.

Russell Fink, Eagles' catcher, suffered an injury to a finger in the first inning while Bud Knox and Max Sherman, Moose outfielders, were severely shaken up when they crashed in attempting to catch a fly ball in the last of the seventh inning, the mishap resulting in the calling of the game at that point.

The Elks topped the VFW 8-5 in the opening game, overcoming a 5-3 deficit with two tallies in the fifth and three more in the sixth.

The Moose chalked up their second straight win by handing the Eagles a 22-2 drubbing. Knox homered for the winners while Wright collected four safeties. Dubbs rapped two of the losers' six hits.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
THE MEDICINE OF ADVERSITY

The heroic of this world have always been those who have faced, and conquered, adversity. The forgotten are those who succumbed to it. Nations experience adversity the same as individuals do, and in each case those who take it as good medicine, survive and grow greater.

Continual prosperity is unhealthy both to individuals and nations. It brings on selfishness, greed, carelessness, and extravagance, and often neglect of the finer elements in human character. But when the dire times come and adversity arrives, it is as though good medicine had arrived! People get together on common ground, understand one another better, and humanize, as though suddenly tossed upon the sea in an open boat where no one is greater than the other.

Prosperity often divides people, but adversity unites and puts them upon a common plane. All sacrifice together, as well as plan together, for the good of all. Adversity is often a bitter medicine, but it brings people back to their real selves.

I once spent a week with a friend at his persistent invitation. He seemed to have everything—an interest in many great businesses, a beautiful home, a country place, a happy home life, yet most of all a multitude of friends. Anyone might envy his success for he was many times a millionaire. But adversity came to this friend, as it has come to so many. I later visited him in humble home, after he had lost practically everything, but adversity had only added to his character. He seemed to me greater than ever. He took that medicine without a whimper!

People flock about you when all goes well, and there is "fine sailing," as the saying goes. But let adversity come and there is a different story. There are those who cannot take its medicine, or its lesson. But at such a time, while there may be those who leave you when trouble arrives, there are those who are sure to welcome you, because they may be in the same boat, and so brought near to you in understanding. Said Shakespeare: "Sweet are the uses of adversity."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Buying."

PURPOSE
We'd gone along a year or two
And run life's round of pleasures through.

The parties and the dinners gay
Brought friends with little new to say.

For luck with cards, we both agreed,

The prizes given we didn't need.
And, bored, we'd grown to look with dread

To what for us might lie ahead.

But when the baby came we knew

That we had something real to do.

We had a purpose high to share.
We had a child our name to bear.

We'd tasks to do from day to day.
We had a need at night to pray.

And looking forward we could see
That braver we should have to be.

No longer life would tedious seem.

We had a hope we had a dream!
There would be countless duties new

That only love will gladly do
We had a reason now to live

That pleasure has no power to give,

A trust to keep throughout our days.

We had a child of God's to raise.

DANGEROUS OIL BATTLE IN IRAN NEAR SHOWDOWN

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The dangerous dispute over Iran's nationalization of the tremendously rich British oil concessions in that country appears to be approaching a showdown.

It's a tense moment for there's enough dynamite in this crisis to set off another World War unless the situation is handled with utmost caution.

Oil-rich Iran (Persia) is a key position in the Middle East, and three great powers—Britain, Russia and America—have for many years been vitally interested in its status. The appearance of any storm cloud over Iran immediately brings all three of these powers to the alert.

Would Hurt England

The crisis concerns the Anglo-Iranian Oil company, in which the British government owns more than half the common stock. This concern supplies some 30 per cent of Britain's oil and much of the oil fuel for her navy. Loss of the oil would be a catastrophe for John Bull.

London is said to contemplate sending a high-level mission to Tehran to try to negotiate a settlement. Meantime all indications are that Britain is looking hopefully to Washington for close cooperation in handling this imbroglio.

The Right-Wing Daily Mail of London sums up the position like this: "If the United States allowed British concessions to be torn up without protest, she would help by her very silence to create an ugly precedent for her own foreign oil interests. Neither country can forget that Russia broods over the Persian border and that this dispute exactly suits her book, if she wants to make trouble in the Middle East."

Some informed British circles put it even stronger and say that this is the time for London and Washington jointly to tell Iran where to get off.

Apropos of this the British war office has got in readiness a 4,000-man parachute brigade which is used for emergencies. Officials declined to discuss the reason for this dramatic move but naturally speculation turns on whether the brigade might be sent to Iran to protect British lives and property.

Well, this crisis certainly puts Britain in a tight spot. If she loses the oil it will hurt in terms of the cold war in the orient, and likely would put the British Isles on a tight gas ration.

However, there seems to be no indication at this writing that Uncle Sam would agree to joint use of the big stick.

There is a strong feeling in some

STOMACH GAS Taxes the HEART

An accumulation of gas in the stomach forms pressure, crowds the heart and results in bloating, "gassy" catches, palpitation and shortness of breath. This condition may frequently be mistaken for heart trouble.

CERTA-VIN is helping such gas "victims" all over Gettysburg. This new medicine is taken before meals, so it works with your food—helps you digest food faster and better. Gas pains go! Bloat vanishes! Contains Herbs and Vitamin B-1 with Iron to enrich the blood and make nerves stronger. Weak, miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get CERTA-VIN—Peoples Drug Store.

Washington circles that Britain's handling of the oil developments has been injudicious and that a more liberal attitude should have been adopted. Some critics claim that the British have given in only where they were compelled to, with the result that the Iranians finally have revolted. As a matter of fact, the United States has advised Britain in previous developments to make terms.

The above appraisal can be qualified by the statement that if the British would abandon the "big stick" attitude, the United States might follow her. But any idea of an ultimatum would be out, as being dangerous.

CONGRESS MAY BALK EXTENSION OF DPA MEASURE

Washington, May 16 (AP)—The chairman of the Senate banking committee says the Defense Production Act (DPA) and the wage-price controls it authorizes are in danger of rejection by Congress.

"I want to warn the administration," Senator Maybank (D-N. C.) told Price Director Michael V. DiSalle, that "I do not know if there is going to be any extension." The present law expires June 30. Maybank said defense officials feared premature disclosure of what crops Brannan had in mind might send their prices soaring. He said Brannan also would testify at a public hearing immediately after the closed one.

The committee gave DiSalle a rough going over at a hearing yesterday.

Maybank said, "it is going to be very, very hard to get any bill passed at all."

DiSalle said he had "more confidence in the sense of responsibility of Congress" than to believe it would allow the act to expire and kill off the system of wage and price controls.

Maybank told reporters later he has found "a lot of opposition" to renewal of the act, and "a surprising lack of public interest" in keeping it alive.

The House banking committee is also conducting hearings on extension of DPA. Its chairman, Rep. Spence (D-Ky.) told a meeting yesterday of the Kentucky United Labor committee it is "absolutely essential" that the law be extended.

DiSalle said he had "more confidence in the sense of responsibility of Congress" than to believe it would allow the act to expire and kill off the system of wage and price controls.

Maybank told reporters later he has found "a lot of opposition" to renewal of the act, and "a surprising lack of public interest" in keeping it alive.

The House banking committee is also conducting hearings on extension of DPA. Its chairman, Rep. Spence (D-Ky.) told a meeting yesterday of the Kentucky United Labor committee it is "absolutely essential" that the law be extended.

Maybank said defense officials feared premature disclosure of what crops Brannan had in mind might send their prices soaring. He said Brannan also would testify at a public hearing immediately after the closed one.

The committee gave DiSalle a rough going over at a hearing yesterday.

Maybank said, "it is going to be very, very hard to get any bill passed at all."

JUDGE SHEELY SPEAKER FOR C C BANQUET AT EMMITSBURG

The Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce held its first annual Founder's Day banquet Tuesday evening at the White House inn.

There was a pre-dinner program which opened with singing "America" and an invocation by Rev. Philip Bower, pastor of Elias Evangelical Lutheran church and words of welcome by Prof. B. J. Eckenrode, president of the chamber. Ralph McDonnell acted as pianist and led the group in singing "Smiles" and "When You Were A Tulip." A roast turkey dinner was enjoyed by the 60 members and guests.

With Col. Thomas J. Frailey as toastmaster, an after-dinner program was presented. These guests were introduced by President Eckenrode: Merle O. Fuss, president of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce; Edward Hartman, president of the Frederick Chamber of Commerce, and George Slagel, Frederick. A quartette from Mt. Saint Mary's college with Steve Burke, leader, entertained with a number of songs. The speaker of the evening was Judge W. C. Sheely, Gettysburg. He was introduced by Col. Frailey. A twenty-minute show was staged by Magician George Callan of Mt. St. Mary's college.

The occasion brought to a close the first year of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce. The present membership of the Chamber is 81. A number of important projects were sponsored successfully by the Chamber during this first year. The officers are: B. J. Eckenrode, president; Charles A. Elder, first vice president; Samuel C. Hays, second vice president; John M. Roddy, Jr., secretary, and Harold M. Hoke, treasurer. The banquet committee was: Charles A. Elder, chairman; Dr. D. L. Beegle and Mrs. Robert E. Daugherty. No business was taken up.

Another special meeting is planned for business, which will include the annual election of officers.

ARNOLD ORNER

Robert Hoffman of York, who is owner of the Barbell and the York Precision companies and editor of Health and Strength magazine. Mr. Hoffman, who has coached Olympic weight-lifting teams since 1932, explained the nature and mechanics of this sport. He indicated the world-wide interest in weight-lifting and the consequent keen competition.

"We weight lifters are trying to build a strong and healthier America. We want people to exercise and engage in healthy activities. He told of the York Barbell club and declared weight lifting is a great muscle builder and body developer. He attributed his own "extreme good health" not to good fortune but to good living."

See Demonstration
Mr. Hoffman recommended proper sleeping habits, maintaining a tranquil mind, proper eating that excludes overeating and an unbalanced diet, plenty of fresh air and sunshine and plenty of exercise. He specially stressed the exercise. "Exercise until you are stronger than you need to be. Remember that all body functions are muscular. Proper exercise and training promotes good health, alert minds and more enjoyable living."

Mr. Hoffman was accompanied to the meeting by Joe Pitman, present holder of the Middle Atlantic District title, the national AAU title and the world title for weight lifting in the lightweight class. He gave a

Upper County Cooking School Opens Thursday Evening In So. Mt. Fair Grounds Auditorium

The second in the series of The Gettysburg Times cooking schools will open in the memorial auditorium at the South Mountain fair grounds near Arendtsville Thursday evening.

The school Thursday and Friday evenings will be conducted by Mrs. Mabel Bowen, nationally-known home economist and lecturer, assisted by Miss M. Elizabeth Howells, home economist for the Metropolitan Edison company.

Doors of the auditorium will open at 6:30 o'clock and the sessions will get under way at 7:30 o'clock. There is no admission charge, and there will be plenty of seats for everyone.

Twenty-five baskets of food and home products, each valued at more than $10, will be given away each of the two nights and in addition, Mrs. Bowen will give away the foods which she prepares on the stage, plus a large number of special awards.

The final cooking school sessions for 1951 will be held in the Hotel Gettysburg annex in Gettysburg next week, May 22, 23 and 24, and in addition to other awards, a $432 television set will be given away. Persons who attend any of the cooking schools sessions, at Littlestown, memorial auditorium or Gettysburg, will be eligible for this grand prize.

Scalp-Collecting Chief Is Divorced

Los Angeles, May 16 (AP) — Chief Wah-Nee-Ote, Cree Indian who collects human scalps for a hobby, is divorced today from the wife he said drank too much firewater.

The chief, from Muskogee, Okla., said Mrs. Anna Louise McGuire, 23, not an Indian, ran away when she got drunk. He added the last time she stayed away a year and a half.

Under his legal name of William McGuire, he won an uncontested divorce yesterday in superior court. He explained: "My grandmother married an Irishman."

A 38-year-old leader of a cowboy band, the chief said his hobby had nothing to do with the divorce. He has nearly 100 scalps, most of them bought from curio dealers. But he admitted his ancestors got eight of them the hard way.

Philadelphia, May 16 (AP) — Operating engineers in the Philadelphia area have been ordered to end their two-weeks strike and return to work on construction projects involving $300,000,000.

A temporary injunction was handed down in common pleas court yesterday restraining about 1,000 engineers from continuing their work stoppage. The men are members of locals of the International Association of Operating Engineers (AFL).

RELIANCE ON WEED-KILLERS

Millenniums of futile efforts have not discouraged man in his attempts to nullify the penalty visited on him in Genesis 3-18—"Thorns also and thistles shall it (the earth) bring forth to thee..." With limited exceptions, chiefly in the polar regions and stretches of desert, the entire land surface of this globe is ample proof that unwanted, highly competitive plant life moves into wage a relentless war on man wherever and whenever he tries to grow domesticated plants for food, shelter, clothing, and pleasure.

The editor once stopped to chat with a farmer who was grubbing sassafras sprouts from a fence row along the highway. The perspiring stranger voiced what has perhaps been the thoughts of unnumbered millions of human beings since the days of Adam. "If I could induce my crops," he complained, "to grow as fast and strong as these sprouts, I'd be the richest farmer in the United States."

Experiments show that alluvial soil taken from strata that have been buried for decades and maybe for centuries contains weed seeds which retain amazing powers of viability.

All these and many other random facts add up to the truth that weeds, although they are generally abnormal and destructive in their roles, yet they naturally abound.

They are apparently here to stay until the Providence who sent them as a penalty will remove them as a blessing. And enthusiastic defenders of our over-publicized "chemical age" still encounter insurmountable obstacles when they promise to liberate man from the task of combating weeds the hard way—by hand and tillage implements.

There are, of course, certain roles in which chemical weed-killers are effectively useful when properly applied. The editor experimented two years ago with a well known named brand of weed eradicator on a large patch of poison ivy. One thorough application resulted in complete extermination. But a neighbor using the same brand to kill out an invasion of dandelions in his lawn killed two fine lilac bushes and seriously damaged a calliopsis without gaining any victory over the dandelions.

Wholesale use of chemicals to rid field crops or even garden beds of weeds may likely, after further experience is gained, prove unwise as well as unworkable. Among many unanswered or semi-answered questions on this phase of weed combat are these: Are friendly insects endangered? Are cumulative poison dangers built up in the soil? What will be the ultimate effects on beneficial soil bacteria? Are animals adversely affected by feeding on pastures and roughage crops that have been sprayed with weed-killers? And again, are such potential dangers cumulative in the bodies of the animals?

No substitute has been found in weed combat to take the place of frequent cutting to starve the roots out, removal by pulling or cultivation, or by growing choke crops to crowd them out.

In all cases where chemical weed-killers are employed, application from a sprinkler is often preferable to spraying. Dogwoods, for example, have been seriously damaged 50 feet from where these chemicals are applied by sprayer. On the other hand, application from a sprinkler is usually safe near such susceptible plants. Of course, the receptacle should be carefully scrubbed before it is used for any other purpose or it should be reserved solely for weed-killing chemicals. In addition, it is not yet time to throw away the hoe.

RIDDING LAWNS OF CRABGRASS

From what sources does crabgrass invade the lawn?

How can it be prevented from getting started?

How can a lawn be cleaned or renewed after crabgrass arrives?

These three questions in varying forms come to the editor's desk repeatedly around the entire year but usually most frequently from late May until fall. Writers indicate that this lawn-deforming enemy is perhaps the most serious problem growers encounter.

There are two common species of crabgrass, both annual in habit and low-growing in form. Seed is usually brought into the lawn in manure used for preparing the soil originally or as over-winter top dressing. Occasionally seeds are included in compost used to lighten and deepen soil when a new lawn is started or an old lawn is repaired. Of course, the seed could conceivably be introduced on the feet or in the droppings of birds or by similar remote agencies.

After the invader gains a hold, even with only a few scattered plants, seed crops matured in late summer and early fall, plus the creeping and multi-rooting stolons, multiplication may be rapid. Too, the seed may remain viable in the soil several years.

The pernicious "sprinkling" habit in which many lawn owners indulge is a leading cause of crabgrass spreading. Most desirable lawn grasses root deeper than the shallow rooting crabgrass. Thus light sprinklings every night or two stimulate the crabgrass without aiding lawn species more than a minimum. One thorough soaking once a week in dry weather, preferably to a depth of three or four inches or more, is the proper, safe way to water a lawn. Anything less aids crabgrass growth.

Growers who have learned to feed their grass with commercial fertilizer should omit the recommended early June feeding where crabgrass is found. In this case the early March and early September applications should be slightly increased.

Prevention measures include: (a) Do not use livestock manure in building lawns if other and safer supplies of organic matter are procurable; (b) Do not top dress the lawn over winter with manure; (c) Buy seed mixtures from reputable sources; (d) Avoid the futile and sometimes foolish practice of applying lime to the lawn every spring; (e) Observe the precautions in watering cited above.

It is possible to keep lawns entirely free from crabgrass. But where clumps are discovered, two eradication measures should be employed at one. First, the individual plants should be taken up by their roots before they mature their seeds.

Next, seedling plants likely to be lurking near the visible plants unidentified should be choked out by shading. This means that the mower should be set to cut the grass about two inches high, beginning in late May or early June, with clippings left on the lawn. Shade is fatal to small crabgrass plants.

The recommended liberal feeding in early March stimulates heavy top growth of desirable grasses and thereby promotes more shade. Of course, bluegrass, a prominent species in most lawn mixtures, enters a period of temporary dormancy in July.

Readers with lawn problems are invited to write the editor for all the information and help they need before the troubles become acute. A healthy, vigorous, beautiful lawn is within reach of every grower who follows the few simple rules of sound building and care.

Coatesville, Pa., May 16 (AP) — State police said today a 17-year-old boy is being held pending a coroner's inquest into an automobile accident Sunday in which two Lebanon county educators were killed. The inquest probably will be held later this week.

Matthew A. Roane, 17, of Wilmington, Del., is being held in juvenile court at West Chester. He was driving a car state police said struck a farm truck which in turn was thrown out of control and overturned on the car of Harry C. Moyer, 60, superintendent of Lebanon county schools.

News Items For Upper End

FARM CALENDAR

Kill Early Weeds—As soon as the rows of vegetables appear in the garden, it is time to kill weeds. Robert Fletcher, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, says that control of weeds will be easier if they are hoed out of the rows early. Shallow hoeing is best because it will not hurt the vegetables.

Preserve Eggs—This is the time of year when many folks preserve eggs by putting them in water glass. Harry Kauffman, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, explains that the containers used should not be painted inside. Otherwise, galvanized cans, as well as glass or earthenware containers, may be used.

Evaluate Dairy Sires—Artificial breeding associations in Pennsylvania are conducting bull evaluation surveys, according to Clyde Hall, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Local bull committees in each county are checking on the type and production of daughters in evaluating the sires used in breeding.

Control Spittle Bugs—For control of spittle bugs on strawberries use a 60 per cent chlordane wettable powder, recommends Stanley Gesell, Penn State extension entomologist. Apply the first dust or spray just as the first blossoms appear. Control of the bugs means more berries.

Prevent Bloating—To prevent bloating of cows and heifers turned on pasture, feed them some hay, advises Robert H. Olmstead, Penn State extension dairy specialist. The coarse material stimulates the stomach lining and permits escape of gas through belching.

Avoid Mosaic Spread—Tobacco users must be careful when working around tomato plants or mosaic will be spread to the plants, says Allen Bauer, Penn State extension plant pathologist.

Treat Sweet Corn Seed—Much of last year's sweet corn crop was weakened by seed decay and root rots. Because of the presence of weak seed, extension plant pathologists of the Pennsylvania State college recommend that all sweet corn seed get a double dose of Arasan this year, 3 or 4 ounces per bushel instead of the usual 2 ounces.

Geese Eat Weeds—A new use for geese has been discovered. They can be used to keep weeds out of the strawberry patch. Penn State extension specialists in poultry husbandry and fruit growing report that best results have been obtained the year the plants are set, and goslings do a better job than older geese.

Lime Poultry Litter—One way to prevent coccidiosis in the poultry flock is to keep the brooder house litter dry. F. H. Leuschner, Penn State extension poultry specialist, reports that some poultrymen use hydrated lime for the purpose. The rate is 10 to 15 pounds per hundred square feet of floor space every 2 to 4 weeks and stirred well.

Field Days Announced—Dates of the Pennsylvania State college grassland field days are: May 22, State Hospital Farm, Wernersville; May 24, The Pennsylvania State college, May 29, Torrance State Hospital Farm, Blairsville; June 1, Sordani Sterling Farms, Harvey's Lake; and June 5, Crawford County Home Farm, Meadville.

Visit Penn State—May 24 and 25 have been scheduled as visiting days at the School of Agriculture of the Pennsylvania State college. Dairy cattle, livestock, poultry and field crops are on the program.

Amputee Smith Can Swap Yarns Now

Washington, May 16 (AP) — Pfc. Robert L. Smith, the first quadruple amputee of the Korean war, has more companions at Walter Reed hospital these days and he likes it. When he arrived from Korea last December he was placed in a private room. But now he's in a ward with 40 other amputees with whom he can swap yarns and enjoy movies and other entertainment that is frequently provided. And on nice days he joins his buddies in a wheelchair visit outdoors.

The Middleburg, Pa., soldier, who lost both hands and the lower part of both legs through frostbite, was described by hospital attaches as "doing very well." He has undergone some surgery recently. The hospital aides said it was part of the preparation for the time when he will be outfitted with mechanical hands and legs.

BIG 3 UNITY ESSENTIAL FOR "SECURITY" OF WESTERN BLOC

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Further consolidation of Big Three (Britain, France, America) policies for the Far East was achieved when the U.N. sanctions committee, which includes these great powers, voted a world-wide ban on shipment of war goods to Red China.

There remain several more steps before the measure becomes effective. However, a big hurdle has been taken towards Big Three unity, which is what counts.

The first break in the embargo is-due came last week just after former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill made a dramatic plea for Big Three unity in the House of Commons. The shipment of war materials to China was then a burning issue.

Need Friendly U. S.

The man who skipped England through the last world war told Commons that preservation of the friendliest relations with the U. S. is a matter of life and death, not only for Britain but for all western Europe. He could have been more blunt, barring diplomatic nicety, and said that the security of the Western bloc depends on Big Three solidarity.

There are no political or economic interests which begin to touch the importance of that fact.

The Big Three must stand together for security.

Mr. Churchill's statement obviously was tacit recognition of America's vast strength and consequent leadership. He declared that the Labor (Socialist) government should avoid giving the United States the impression that, while Americans carried the heaviest load in Korea, Britain "pulled at their coat tails and read their moral lessons in statecraft and the love that we ought to have for China."

Proper Settlement

Shortly after the Conservative leader resumed his seat, the government announced that the hotly criticized rubber shipments to Red China had been halted for the rest of 1951. Then yesterday the United Nations took its sweeping action, with Britain and France supporting the measure.

This came after both Britain and France had made a fight against American insistence on the arms embargo. Economic and political interests were at the bottom of the Anglo-French opposition.

The consensus of observers is that this represents a proper settlement of the controversy. However, this doesn't mean that decisions should be dictated by the fact of American

CLAMP DOWN ON APPROPRIATIONS UNTIL ACCORD ON TAX PLANS

Harrisburg, May 16 (AP) — The House Appropriations committee clamped down today on all proposed state expenditures for the next two years until the Senate resolves its differences with Gov. Pine on the tax program.

Chairman Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) disclosed the action after introducing interim appropriation bills to carry on state operations for only the month of June.

"There's no use doing anything about general appropriation bills until the tax question is decided," said Wood. "You can't make appropriations without money."

Another committee spokesman, who declined quotation by name, hinted that the governor was ready to veto all appropriation bills until leadership.

Decisions should be reached on the basis of the common interests—one for all and all for one. And we of the Western hemisphere must recognize that Europe has its problems.

the Senate (1) enacts his proposal for a one-half of one per cent income tax, or (2) offers a substitute tax plan.

A bloc of 11 Republican senators refused to support the income levy at a GOP caucus Monday. It forced the administration to return the bill to the Senate Finance committee rather than see it defeated in a floor vote.

Wood's bill, almost certain to be enacted quickly to avoid a breakdown of commonwealth fiscal operations, called for $10,000,000 for public assistance and $9,000,000 for state departments and bureaus.

The Appropriations committee refusal to act on any more money bills was interpreted as a House move to go along with Pine's reported stand that the next step on taxes must be taken by the Senate.

Would Plug Loopholes

Sen. T. Nevill Wood (R-Lancaster), a close confidant of Pine and high in administration circles, underlined that point with a statement: Maybe those 11 senators will introduce a program of their own now that they have voted down the income tax.

From the Democrats came a suggestion that loopholes in the present corporation tax laws be closed as a means of bringing in an additional $40,000,000 every two years.

"There is a circumvention of the tax law (by corporations) to the tune of $40,000,000 a biennium," said Sen. John H. Dief, Democratic floor leader.

He called for eliminating tax exemptions for subsidiary corporations who lease their facilities to parent companies and who in turn are allowed further exemptions on rental costs involved in the leases.

Other Tax Bills Pass

Shortly before Dent's speech, the Senate voted to increase the four per cent corporate net income tax to five per cent to bring in an additional $44,000,000 in the next two years. The House-passed bill then went to the governor for signature.

The remainder of Pine's tax program, shorn of his disputed income tax bill, also passed the Senate and went to the House for concurrence in Senate changes or to the governor for signature.

The action renewed $400,000,000 in present taxes besides adding the $44,000,000 to the tax bill of corporations.

Three tax bills were sent to the House for agreement on a Senate change to make them permanent. They include the cent a pint beer tax and the four-cent a pack cigarette tax, in each of which half of the tax is temporary, and the 10 per cent liquor tax, all of which is now temporary.

Six mills of the gross receipts tax on public utilities also was continued for another two years on a temporary basis.

Another tax bill sent to the governor for signature calls for postponing for another to years the manufacturers' exemption from the five-mill capital stock tax at a saving of $40,000,000 every two years.

Anticipated revenues from these levies for the next two years included $46,000,000 from beer, $89,000,000 from cigarettes, $36,800,000 from liquor, $220,000,000 from corporate net income and $20,375,000 from gross receipts of public utilities.

CHURCH HOLDS ANNUAL DINNER ON SATURDAY

The Upper Bermudian Lutheran church held its annual Mother and Daughter banquet Saturday evening at the fire hall in Aspers with the fathers and sons of the congregation serving the dinner.

Mrs. Cameron Garretson served as toastmistress and group singing during the evening was led by Miss Marie Prosser.

Following the invocation pronounced by Mrs. Elmer Peam, Mrs. Garretson welcomed the group. This was followed by a tribute by a young mother, Mrs. Adam Lobaugh, and a mother's response by Mrs. Grover Smith.

Other numbers on the program included a reading with musical accompaniment by Mrs. Freeman Glass; a recitation, "My Message," by Susan Bricker; reading, "A Lost Child," by Dolores Arentz; a vocal selection, "You Taught Me to Pray," by a trio which included Miss Grace Lobaugh, Miss Prosser and Mrs. Lloyd Hoffman, Mrs. Glenn Hoffman read "The Woman Doctor Chosen Mother for 1951."

Mrs. Garretson then presented the following awards: Mrs. John Smith, of York Springs, the oldest mother present; Mrs. Raymond Lobaugh, the youngest mother present; Mrs. Raymond Bream, the mother with the most daughters present and Betty Lobaugh, the youngest daughter present.

The meeting closed with a farewell reading by Miss Edna Kessler and the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

ABCTo Remain Under Present Ownership

New York, May 16 (AP) — The American Broadcasting company will remain under its present ownership, says ABC board chairman Edward J. Noble.

He issued a statement last night to disclose officially for the first time that ABC had turned down offers for mergers made by the Columbia Broadcasting System and Paramount Theaters, Inc.

During CBS negotiations, Noble said, he rejected an offer from an "interested party other than CBS" to buy his own personal ABC stock. Noble owns about 53 per cent of ABC stock.

JEBB PLEDGES BRITAIN WILL STAND WITH U. S.

New York, May 16 (AP)—Sir Gladwyn Jebb, chief British delegate to the United Nations, has pledged that Britain will stand "wholeheartedly with the United States in the general struggle against Communist-inspired aggression."

Jebb defended Britain's record in the Korean war and her trade policy toward Red China in a speech before the New York City Bar association. Great Britain, he declared, "is wholeheartedly with the United States in the general struggle against Communist-inspired aggression. . . . Everything we can do, short of fatally weakening our main position, to assist the general effort, we shall do, even if that results, as it may well result, in some lowering of the standard of living in Great Britain itself, which has been so laboriously built up since the war."

Predicts Broad Embargo
He said that Britain early in the war halted exports of strategic materials to Communist China, particularly petroleum products, but not rubber. Now, he said, rubber shipments also are embargoed.

The British diplomat predicted that the U.N. General Assembly will adopt far-reaching embargo recommendations later this week. The 60-nation Assembly Political Committee meets at Flushing Meadow tomorrow to open debate on the embargo plan, recommended by a 12-nation sanctions committee Monday.

Britain is joining the U. S., France, Vataalaank Venezuela in presenting the resolution. It calls for halting export of arms, ammunition, atomic energy materials, petroleum and other war materials to Red China.

Denies Charge
Jebb told the Bar Association he had "often heard it alleged that we had subordinated our support for the United Nations to our own commercial interests in Hong Kong."

"Nothing could be further from the truth," he declared. "In these days, we are deriving very little direct benefit from trade with China and it would be ludicrous to suggest that, when the whole existence of the Western world is at stake, we should give priority to such commercial interests."

Calls Differences Minor
Jebb also pointed out that Britain not only has thousands of troops, fliers and sailors in Korea, but is also fighting communism in Malaya and the Middle East, as well as garrisoning part of Germany.

He dismissed as minor the difference between the U. S. and Britain over Britain's recognition of Communist China.

"We all know there just is not going to be any change (in Chinese representation in the U.N.) until and unless there is a cease-fire in Korea and some agreed settlement is negotiated," he said.

Emperor Chao Hsing undertook construction of the Great Wall of China.

Littlestown

Littlestown—The May meeting of the Women's Missionary society of St. Luke's Union church, near White Hall, will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church. The leader will be Mrs. Rodney Harner.

The Littlestown Junior-Senior high school will play its closing baseball game of the season on Thursday afternoon on the home field opposite the Newville team.

Delegates from St. Mary's Lutheran church, Silver Run, will attend the Western Conference Sunday school convention, which begins at 9:45 a.m. on Thursday at Burkittsville, Md.

Week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Keefer, South Queen street, were their son-in-law and daughter, Pfc. and Mrs. Calvin Maitland, Washington, D. C., and their daughter, Miss Barbara Keefer, McKeesport. Pfc. Maitland, who is serving with the U. S. Air Force, and his wife also visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Maitland, Sr., West King street, and other relatives and friends in the community.

Mrs. Emily Badders, a student at Church Home and Hospital, Baltimore, visited on Tuesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Badders, and family, Lumber street.

Mrs. J. Arthur Boyd, East King street, spent Friday evening at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pippin, and daughter, Jacquelyn, Washington, D. C. Mrs. Boyd accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Pippin and Jacquelyn on a motor trip to Bristol, Tenn., where they visited during the week-end at the home of Mr. Pippin's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs.

Landon Baker.

Mrs. James W. Fager, Lumber street, president of the Ocker Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion Auxiliary, and Mrs. J. Ray Rein-dollar, Lumber street, as delegate, represented the local auxiliary at the Central Section American Legion Auxiliary Department of Pennsylvania dinner meeting held in Palmyra on Thursday at the American Legion home. The dinner was in honor of Mrs. Willis C. Reed, the national auxiliary president, and Mrs. J. Howard McKay, the department president.

John Rebert, a student at Shippenburg State Teachers' college, spent the week-end at the homes of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rebert, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Withers, near town.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Hall and son, Jerry, North Queen street, visited during the week-end at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hall, State College. The latter Mr. Hall is a student at Penn State.

Henry J. Miller and daughters, Ladora and Seiglinda, of Codorus, visited on Sunday at the home of the former's nephew and niece, Mr.

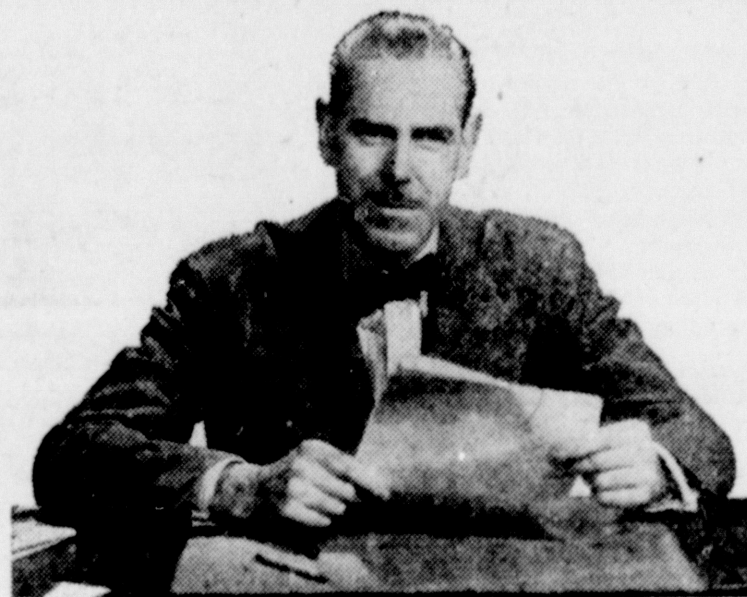

and Mrs. Robert H. Miller, and family, South Queen street. The former Mr. Miller is the supervising principal of the Dover Consolidated school system and was guest speaker for the Mother's Day program on Sunday morning at Redeemer's Reformed Sunday school, for which his daughters offered several vocal duets.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Fager, Lumber street, were Sunday dinner guests at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs.

James Pinkerton, and family, Columbia. During the afternoon the Fagers and the Pinkertons motored to Kennett Square to view the Du Pont flower gardens.

The Merino sheep was considered so valuable in Spain at one time that anyone attempting to export one was put to death.
